DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claims 22-40 and 43-46 are drawn to an apparatus for conducting chemical reactions.

Group II, claims 41-42 are drawn to a method for conducting chemical reactions.

The special technical feature of Group I is the chemical slider, as recited in Claim 1. The forgoing special technical feature is shown in the prior art of Smothers (5,310,523). Therefore, there is no contribution made over the prior art, hence there is no unity of invention and lack of unity is held by the Examiner.

During a telephone conversation with Ken Clark on 2-25-04 a provisional election was made with traverse to prosecute the invention of Group I, claims 22-40 and 43-46. Affirmation of this election must be made by applicant in replying to this Office action. Claims 41-42 are withdrawn from further consideration by the examiner, 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a non-elected invention.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 22-28 and 43-44 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Smethers et al. (5,310,523). Smethers et al. teach a disk capable of operating as the claimed reaction slider (Figure 6a, item 28); a disk capable of operating as the claimed selector slider (Figure 6a, item 26) having a continual control orifice where the selector slider is capable of moving relative to the reaction slider (col. 4, ll. 40-46); and a disk capable of operating as a chemical slider, located on the opposite side of the reaction slider to the selector slider (Figure 6a, item 24) and the reaction chambers of the reaction slider and the feed holes of the chemical slider are arranged along an orbit (Figure 6a, item 24); where the reaction slider and selector slider can be moved by rotation around an axis which passes through the center point of the orbit, one of the reaction chambers and control orifice may be brought into alignment so that the supply can be made (Figure 9a and 9b, item 124); the device is provided for applying a force to the sliders in order to seal their faces this device is acting on a connecting rod (figure 8, item 195), which extends through central openings in the sliders so that a force, which is applied by the device for applying a force to the sliders acts in the area of the axis of rotation (Figure 8, item 195) where both the reaction and selector slider are plate shaped (Figure 7a, item 28 and 72) and where they are drivable independent from one another (col. 4, ll. 44-46 and figure 6a and 6b, item 28) where the device for applying pressure may be driven electronically (Figure 10, item 195).

Art Unit: 1725

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 29-40 and 45-46 are allowed.

Claim 26-28 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The prior art of record does not suggest or teach a an apparatus for conducting chemical reactions, particularly the arrangement of the pressure device or the arrangement of the feed supply.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
